FOREWORD

As you turn through the pages of this book, may you wander once more through the memories of the past years, recalling the happiest hours, the best-loved scenes, the valued friends, and may the pictures which we have chosen help to make your memories more vivid throughout the passing years.

DEDICATION

MRS. KATE MURPHY

Because of her high ideals for the better things in life; because of her efforts to pass these ideals on to others; because of her unselfish loyalty for one score years in our school system, and because we sincerely appreciate what she has done for us, we dedicate this issue of THE TIGER to Mrs. Kate Murphy, primary teacher of the Roff Public School.

Superintendent's Message

To Our Students and Patrons:

We come to school that we may work more and by so doing, live more. We must learn to think quickly, accurately, and distinguish truth from error. Our American heritage is liberty, opportunity, and complete development, an alert mind and a soul that knows right from wrong and loves justice.

Let us pursue a course of unity, growth, and complete cooperation. There is no place in a community, or public school system for selfishness, prejudice, cliques, or factionalism. This, as I see it is our only solution toward a better community and school.

Let us learn to think good instead of evil, help instead of hurt and practice, the "Golden Rule" in living with others.

Sincerely,

Richard G. Swink

FOR FUN AND LAUGHS

Max G. and Jimmy O. were at dinner. They put their hands side by side on the white tablecloth.

"Mine's dirtier than your'n," said Max triumphantly.

"Shucks", said Jimmy. "Why shouldn't they be? You are purtne'er two months older than I am!"

********

Edith: "Oh, here's the place mother told me to stay away from. I thought we'd never find it!"

********

Joy S.: "You're awfully bashful, aren't you? Now look out, I'm going to scare you!" (She kissed him.) "Now you try to scare me."

Kenith F. (ha-ha): "Boo."

********

Mr. Loper: "You married me for my money."

Mrs. Loper: "Well, I've earned it."

********

"I started playing the piano when I was only four years old," Mary Edna boasted.

Not to be outdone, Ola Faye replied: "That's nothing. I was only 10 months old when I started playing on the linoleum."

********

Donna: "Isn't it funny that the length of a man's arm is just equal to the circumference of a girl's waist?"

Norman: "Let's get a piece of string and find out."

********

The first little pig said to the second young porker: "My, I never sausage heat."

Replied the second: "Yes, I'm nearly bacon."

********

"I don't think I look 40, do you, Beauchamp?"

"Why, no, Miss Crockett not any more."

********

Gene says: "Pears like some girls want to remain single—but most of 'em would rather knot."

********

The room was quiet; the lamp was low. James speaks—"What are you thinking about, darling?"

Margaret answers—"The same thing you are, dear."

Then James—"Hot dawg! I'll race ya to the ice box!"

********

"I itch for riches,"
Coach vainly sighed;
"Then do some scratching,"
His wife replied.

********

Johnie believes that no woman should allow herself to become so fat that she has to be hugged by installments.

********

"LeeRoy, your reports should be written in such a manner that even the most ignorant person can understand them."

"What part is it that you don't understand, Mrs. Clifton?"

********

Norma: "Papa, there's a woman peddler at the door."

Mr. Swink: "Tell him to beat it. I got one too many already."

********

Leon has deep respect for age; especially if it is over eight years and bottled.

********

In His grammar lesson one day, Miss Wingard wrote on the blackboard:

"I didn't have no fun at the seaside."

Then she turned around to Eugene and said: "Eugene, how should I correct that?"

"Get a boyfriend," he answered.

********

"Lets stick this guy for the drinks," said one mosquito to the other.
